So much culture saved from the maids of death pic.twitter.com/zu6el8uwri: bennett (@bfod) January 31, 2020 after flash end, many companies emigrated to the Unit or HTML5, but HTML5, but there are still many games that are actually lost at the end of this year. And although Flash games are not comparable to those we play today, they were an important part of the history of the Internet and the entrance door to many people in the world of games. Many of these games have helped create not only players but also developers. There are some very popular games in these days that have begun their life as flash games (the case of Isaac's union, for example). And although not all flash games are already good, it is still worth preserving. The first allows you to download your games while playing them; The best option for those who have a lot of storage space. The second already offers the entire flashpoint game library, which basically consists of almost 40 thousand different games. It is an optimal option to kill the desire of the past and make a nostalgia with friends "and, of course, the perfect solution for those boring afternoon.
